Limited Submissions are opportunities in which the sponsor limits the number of nominations or proposals (or sometimes other types of submissions like Concept Papers or Letters of Intent) that Cornell University may submit to a particular program. When this occurs, an internal selection process (typically an internal competition) is coordinated.

For further information about the internal process, answers to FAQs, and more, visit the Cornell Limited Submissions website. Please contact Limited Submissions if you intend to apply to a limited submission opportunity not listed below, missed an internal competition deadline, or have any questions.

Unless otherwise noted in a competition announcement, internal competition deadlines are for 5:00 PM, and applications must be submitted via the competition web portal.

- NOTE: Weill Cornell Medicine has its own internal competitions for limited submissions. WCM investigators, please contact Florencia Marcucci in the WCM Office of the Research Dean.

Announcements

- Open Dept. of Energy "short fuse" solicitations: The DOE has recently been releasing a number of limited submissions FOAs that have short submission timelines which do not allow sufficient time for internal competitions. For each of these FOAs, applicants will be approved to submit on a rolling basis, "first come, first serve," until slots are filled. If you are interested in applying to any of the following, send a Letter of Interest to Cornell Limited Submissions. Follow the links for further details and instructions.
  - CLOSED: DOE Science Foundations for Energy Earthshots (DE-FOA-0003003). All application slots have been filled.
  - DOE Industrial Efficiency and Decarbonization Office (IEDO) FY23 Multi-Topic FOA. Note: The application slot for Topic Area 7 has been filled.

- Keck Research Program Virtual Information Session on April 12th @ 1:30pm: The
W. M. Keck Research Program seeks to support Medical Research and Science & Engineering projects that are distinctive and novel in their approach, question the prevailing paradigm, or have the potential to break open new territory in their field. Dr. Simon Scheuring, 2022 Keck Research Grant Recipient and Professor of Physiology & Biophysics in Anesthesiology, will share insights about his experience with the application process and program. Click here to register to attend. To learn about the internal competition, see the competition link in the below table.

New Competitions

Intel's 2023 Rising Star Faculty Award (RSA)
Internal deadline: April 24. The purpose of Intel’s RSA program is to help promote the careers of promising early career faculty members and to foster long term collaborative relationships with Intel. It provides and award and networking support to faculty members. Cornell Department Chairs are invited to submit nominations to the internal competition.

American Diabetes Association (ADA) Pathway to Stop Diabetes
Internal deadline: May 15. Pathway provides crucial support to individuals focusing on innovative ideas and transformational approaches that will lead to ground-breaking discoveries in diabetes prevention, management and cures. This call for nominations is prioritizing exceptional investigators that aim to advance existing knowledge and discovery gained from the basic sciences to its eventual translation into patient and population benefit.

NIH Director’s Early Independence Awards (DP5 Clinical Trial Optional)
Internal deadline: May 25. The Director's Early Independence Award supports rigorous and promising junior investigators who wish to pursue independent research soon after completion of their terminal doctoral degree or post-graduate clinical training, thereby forgoing the traditional post-doctoral training period and accelerating their entry into an independent research career.
